

Circular Letter # 130

October 13, 1904

To Superintendents:

Under separate cover a sufficient number of "Outline of A course of Study in English for Porto Rican Teachers" is being sent you for distribution among the Porto Rican teachers, as well as all American teachers who are to have charge of the classes in question. Since coming from the hand of the Printer the Outline has been carefully looked over and, as far as can be noted, there is nothing to prevent the Course being carried out as outlined. In case any difficulty present itself to you, kindly communicate with us at once.

Directions and explanations given in the pamphlet are sufficiently clear and explicit, and additional instructions seem hardly necessary in order that the English classes for Porto Rican teachers may commence on the date mentioned in the Course. A sincere effort has been made by this Department to render these classes in every way practical and useful to the native teachers, and we request your co-operation to see that this end is attained.

In case additional text-books are needed, requisition for same should be made at once.

Yours respectfully,

Roland P. Falkner

Commissioner of Education
